

Abstract

Provided are a guinea pig immunoglobulin E fraction separated and purified from blood of an allergen-sensitized 5 guinea pig, a highly specific anti-guinea-pig immunoglobulin E antibody obtained using the fraction as the antigen, and a reagent for immunoassaying guinea pig immunoglobulin E comprising the antibody.